

Discover the Neuroscience of Coaching

The Neurobiology of Coaching Success

Who's It For?

You're always looking for the best ways to attract and galvanize your clients to reach their goals and visions. Plus, you're curious about neuroscience and how it connects with your approach to coaching. You'll fit in great if you are a coach, CPPC, or you want to achieve this IAPPC science-informed certification. You'll learn to activate the body's communication systems for greater coaching success. Plus, you'll get chances to coach in class, get feedback, and will receive a certificate of completion when you finish the course.

What's It for?

People are fascinated by the new discoveries of neuroscience coaching because it explains why the tools you use work so well. This course combines coaching, training, and Q&A, led by Julia Stewart, President of IAPPC. You'll learn neuroscience-based coaching tools that will make your coaching more attractive to clients and make their success a "no-brainer"!

How Does It Work?

You'll meet by Zoom for six one-hour live presentations that will reveal the latest on neurobiology. Then, meet six more times via Zoom for Q&A + optional live coaching. You'll also receive the NEW Neuroscience Coaching Tools Manual as your guide and reference to mastering your own style of neuroscience coaching, at no extra charge.

How Much Is It?

The cost of this $1350 course is only $909 through April 30th. Get 12 live and recorded Zoom meetings, The New IAPPC Coaching Tools Manual, coaching opportunities, a private online community, a certificate of completion, plus many extra resources and a Certificate of Completion. Be confident coaching your clients succeed via neurobiology.

JOIN NOW: Save $441! Just $909 All Inclusive - Use credit, debit, or Apple Pay